St. Mary's (Champaign)

St. Mary's, Champaign, was established by the Reverend Father, Charles Berry. It is located in the south edge of Champaign near the center of Section 24-19-8, bordered on the north and east by the University of Illinois and the U. of I. farm and on the west by the Illinois right-of-way. It is situated on one of the high rolling ridges that extend through the south part of Champaign. It is fenced, well laid out, and well-kept with many modern stones and mausoleums. It is kept up by assessment and also a permanent care fund derived from the sale of lots and is supervised by a committee of the St. Mary's Church, appointed by the pastor.

There are 18 Civil War veterans and four World War veterans reported buried there.

We wish to recognize the help of the following workers in compiling and organizing this information:

Mrs. Stanley B. Hadden
Mr. & Mrs. Charles Throckmorton
Mrs. Robert W. Bills
Mrs. Richard Castle
Susan Castle (11 years)
Barbara Castle (13 years)
Mrs. Cecil Lincicome

Vertical text on the left side, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The characters are faint and difficult to decipher but appear to be organized in a structured manner, possibly a list or index.

Vertical text on the right side, also appearing to be bleed-through from the reverse side. It contains several lines of text, some of which are more legible than others, suggesting a structured layout like a table or a series of entries.

The Homer G. A. R. Cemetery

(Homer Cemetery)

The Homer G. A. R. (often known as the Homer Cemetery) and the American Legion Annex, thereto, lies on a gently rising slope about one-fourth of a mile Northeast of the village of Homer in the Northeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter of Section 9-18-14.

The land for the G. A. R. portion was sold by Amanda Eggleston in her own right and George B. Eggleston, her husband, to Jacob M. Ocheltree, Lemuel R. Thompson, and Ambert J. Conkey and to their successors in office as trustees of Homer Post, N. 263, of the Department of Illinois Grand Army of the Republic, August 2, 1886. It was accepted by a resolution of the village trustees and A. C. Woody, President, as a cemetery and surveyed and laid out by J. H. Spraker in 1887 who was village clerk.

For a number of years it was in charge of the G. A. R., Post 263, but is now being maintained by the American Legion Post of Homer who platted the Annex lying to the West of the G. A. R. portion. Joseph Bravshaw surveyed the Annex.

Near the entrance of the older portion stands a Grand Army statue mounted on granite, flanked along the west edge of the oval by nine Civil War veterans and one Spanish-American War veterans, in front of which is a mounted cannon. The cemetery is well kept and nicely landscaped.

There are ninety Civil War veterans buried in this cemetery including nine about the oval. There are four veterans of the Spanish-American War: Robert H. Roberts, William Patton, Charles Lewis, and Bert Burdick. One Black Hawk War veteran, T. L. Butler is buried here.

Journal of the American Medical Association

The American Medical Association is a non-profit corporation organized for the purpose of promoting the science and art of medicine and the health of the people of the United States. It was organized in 1847 and has since that time been the largest and most influential of the medical organizations in this country. Its membership is composed of physicians, dentists, and other health care professionals who are interested in the advancement of the medical profession and the improvement of the health of the community. The Association's activities are directed towards the promotion of the highest standards of medical education, the advancement of medical research, the improvement of medical practice, and the protection of the public health. It accomplishes these ends through its various departments, committees, and publications. The Association's official journal, the Journal of the American Medical Association, is one of the most widely read and respected medical journals in the world. It contains the latest news and information in the field of medicine and is a valuable resource for all medical professionals. The Association also publishes a number of other journals and books, and it sponsors a variety of educational and research programs. In addition, the Association is actively involved in the promotion of public health and the improvement of the medical care of the people. It has a long and distinguished history, and it continues to play a leading role in the medical profession today.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) and (2) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β . It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative.

2. In the second part of the paper the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) and (2) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β is solved. It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative.

3. In the third part of the paper the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) and (2) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β is solved. It is shown that the system has solutions for all values of the parameters α and β if the function $f(x)$ is continuous and has a bounded derivative.

1. The first part of the report is a general introduction to the subject of the study. It discusses the importance of the problem and the objectives of the research.

2. The second part of the report is a detailed description of the methods used in the study. It includes a discussion of the experimental design, the data collection procedures, and the statistical analysis techniques.

3. The third part of the report is a presentation of the results of the study. It includes a discussion of the findings, a comparison of the results with previous research, and a conclusion about the significance of the study.

4. The fourth part of the report is a discussion of the implications of the study. It includes a discussion of the limitations of the study, the strengths of the findings, and the potential for future research.

5. The fifth part of the report is a summary of the study. It includes a brief overview of the main findings and a final statement about the importance of the research.

6. The sixth part of the report is a list of references. It includes a list of all the sources used in the study, including books, articles, and other documents.

7. The seventh part of the report is an appendix. It includes a list of all the data collected during the study, including raw data and processed data.

8. The eighth part of the report is a glossary. It includes a list of all the terms used in the study, including technical terms and common terms.

9. The ninth part of the report is a list of figures. It includes a list of all the figures used in the study, including tables, graphs, and charts.

10. The tenth part of the report is a list of tables. It includes a list of all the tables used in the study, including data tables and summary tables.

The Old Huss Cemetery

James Huss, the great grandfather of J. Wesley Huss and J. Walter Huss came from Shelby County, Kentucky, and settled on the land including the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 32-18-10 about four miles south of St. Joseph in 1831. Soon thereafter burials were begun on this tract of land, the high east bank of the Salt Fork Stream. This old cemetery is unquestionably one of the oldest in this part of the state, contains from four hundred to five hundred burials and was probably filled by early settlers prior to and during the Civil War (there were a few burials during the World War). The older Huss obtained patent to the Southeast Quarter of said section, June 13, 1831, and his commissioners included his son, Jefferson Huss, a member of the first board of commissioners when Champaign County was organized in 1836. Larkin Deere entered his land about the same time.

When the Huss Chapel, a mile and one half westerly was established, the Huss's and some other family burials were removed to the new location for reasons not now apparent for the old cemetery was well located on the east end of a spur overlooking the Salt Fork some twenty-five feet below.....

A certain style of script, inscriptions familiar to the early period of monument design is found here. Several monuments are of Indiana or Ohio sandstone, likely brought in by early Indiana settlers.

It is partly pastured now to keep down the growth, but in poor condition. Most of the monuments are tumbling down.

CHAPTER IV

The first part of the chapter deals with the general principles of the theory of the firm. It discusses the relationship between the firm and the market, and the role of the firm in the economy. The second part of the chapter deals with the specific aspects of the theory of the firm, such as the production function, the cost function, and the profit function. The third part of the chapter deals with the empirical aspects of the theory of the firm, such as the estimation of the production function, the cost function, and the profit function.

The fourth part of the chapter deals with the policy aspects of the theory of the firm. It discusses the role of government in the economy, and the impact of government policy on the firm. The fifth part of the chapter deals with the international aspects of the theory of the firm. It discusses the role of the firm in the international economy, and the impact of international trade on the firm.

The sixth part of the chapter deals with the future of the theory of the firm. It discusses the challenges facing the theory of the firm, and the opportunities for its development. The seventh part of the chapter deals with the conclusion of the chapter. It summarizes the main findings of the chapter, and discusses the implications for the theory of the firm.

1. The first of these is the fact that the system is not self-sufficient. It requires a constant input
of energy from the sun.
This energy is converted into heat, which is then used to drive the system.
The second point is that the system is not closed.
It is open to the environment,
and this allows for the exchange of matter and energy between the system
and the outside world.
The third point is that
the system is not static.
It is constantly changing,
and this is due to the
fact that the system is not in equilibrium with the environment.
